

Area Discussion and Quiz

One day just a few months ago
A call came to Marple L.O.
It was Eilis, who rang
With an interesting plan
So we said we would give it a go.

We looked for a smart room to rent,
And soon invitations were sent.
We found a nice pub
Who could lay on some grub.
We could pay for it all when we went.

The evening arrived fine and cold
And we welcomed our new friends and old
At tables we sat
And started to chat.
There were seventy-two people all told.

Eilis talked of N.W.R.,
How the new plan was going so far.
She answered our questions
And listened to suggestions
Then time for a drink at the bar.

The quiz was light-hearted and fun
With a prize for the team who had won.
Landlord Jim did us proud,
Enough food for a crowd.
A great evening, when all's said and done!
